

Executive Proclamation

Office of the Governor

Whereas, Jason Glodt has provided faithful service as a senior policy advisor to Governor Dennis Daugaard and Governor M. Michael Rounds; and,

Whereas, For eight years Jason has given sound advice and counsel on agriculture, environment and natural resources, game, fish, and parks, public safety, and transportation issues; and,

Whereas, Jason has never refused to accept any meeting or take any call, from any South Dakotan, to hear their concerns and understand their interests; and,

Whereas, Jason has served without pretension or entitlement, and has always put the best interests of South Dakota first; and,

Whereas, Jason's honesty, hard work, and reputation for square dealings have been a model for others to follow; and,

Whereas, Jason has advanced the cause of camaraderie and understanding in the political process by providing accommodation and nourishment to hundreds of citizens, without compensation or reward other than the satisfaction of serving his fellow man; and,

Whereas, On October 31, 2012, Jason is leaving the Office of the Governor to begin a new venture in the private sector:

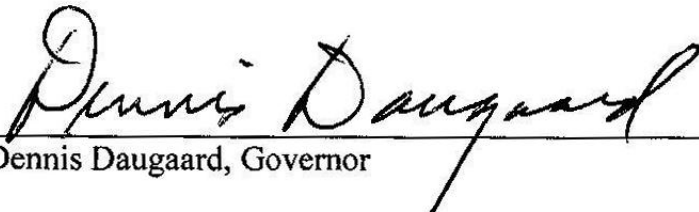

Now, Therefore, I, Dennis Daugaard, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim October 31, 2012, as

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-fifth Day of October the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Twelve.

Dennis Daugaard, Governor

Attest:

Jason M. Gant, Secretary of State
